Federal Subsistence Regional Advisory Council

MEMBERSHIP INFORMATION

Membership applications or nominations for seats on the 10 Federal Subsistence Regional Advisory Councils are being accepted now through January 29, 2016.

The Regional Advisory Councils provide advice and recommendations to the Federal Subsistence Board about subsistence hunting, trapping, and fishing issues on Federal public lands. Membership on the Councils is one way for the public to become involved in the Federal subsistence regulatory process.

Each Council has either 10 or 13 members, and membership includes representatives of subsistence use and commercial/sport use.

Council Membership

Regional Advisory Council members are usually appointed to three-year terms. The Councils meet at least twice a year; once in the fall (August through October) and once in the winter (February or March). Council members are not paid for their volunteer service, however, their transportation and lodging are pre-paid and per diem is provided for food and other expenses under Federal travel guidelines.

Council Responsibilities:

- Review and make recommendations to the Federal Subsistence Board on proposals for regulations, policies, management plans, and other subsistence-related issues;
- Develop proposals that provide for the subsistence harvest of fish and wildlife;
- Encourage and promote local participation in the decision-making process affecting subsistence harvests on Federal public lands;
- Make recommendations on customary and traditional use determinations of subsistence resources; and,
- Appoint members to National Park Subsistence Resource Commissions.

“Sharing common values and developing solutions to resource problems helps to bridge cultures by developing trust and respect through active communication and compromise. Our meetings allow warm renewal of decades of friendships and acquaintances.... Basically, membership on a Regional Advisory Council comes down to a lot of hard work, mutual respect, willingness to compromise, and a sense of humor. As a result, one develops the ultimate satisfaction of being able to help folks you care about.”

Federal Subsistence Board

The Federal Subsistence Board is the decision-making body that oversees the Federal Subsistence Management Program. It is made up of the regional directors of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, National Park Service, Bureau of Land Management, Bureau of Indian Affairs, the U.S. Forest Service as well as three public members appointed by the Secretaries of the Interior and Agriculture: two represent rural subsistence users and one is the Federal Subsistence Board chairman. The Secretaries have delegated the authority to manage fish and wildlife for subsistence uses on Federal public lands and waters in Alaska to the Federal Subsistence Board. Federal Subsistence Regional Advisory Councils and State of Alaska representatives play active roles in Board deliberations.

Completing the Application

It is crucial that you complete as much as possible of the application/nomination form. Provide your full legal name, as much contact information as possible, and your date of birth. All of this information is very important for completing your application process and in assisting the Secretaries of the Interior and Agriculture in making their final decision. If you are nominating someone to serve on a Regional Advisory Council, you should inform that individual that you are planning to nominate them in order to ensure that they are interested in serving.

Here are some tips on how to answer some of the more detail-oriented questions in the application/nomination form.

For each of the following questions, as applicable, make sure to state how many years experience you have or how many years of knowledge you have, and how you obtained that experience or knowledge.

Knowledge of fish and wildlife resources in the region. For question No. 1, be as specific as possible as to what fish, shellfish and wildlife you are familiar with in your region and what you know about them. Include what sort of uses you participate in and what species you harvest.

Knowledge of subsistence customary and traditional uses of resources in region. For question No. 2, describe what customary and traditional uses you are familiar with, how you learned them, how you process your harvest, and if and how you share your traditional knowledge with others.

Knowledge of sport and commercial uses of fish and wildlife resources in region. For question No. 3, please describe your experience or knowledge in commercial and/or sport fishing and hunting, what species you take, whether you guide hunting and/or fishing clients, and for what species. Identify whether your knowledge is based on personal experience or from what you have learned from others.

Participation in meetings regarding fish and wildlife resource issues. For question No. 4, identify what type of meetings you have attended, how many meetings you have attended, and for how many years. Also describe your level of involvement at those meetings, and whether you represented another organization at those meetings.

Participation in councils, boards, committees or associations. For question No. 5, provide the complete names of any of these types of organizations you have participated in, any offices or positions held, and how many years you participated in the organization. Identify any awards or recognition you may have obtained while serving with these groups.

Communicating information back to people of your region. For question No. 6, describe in detail your ideas on how you would share information you have learned at the Regional Advisory Council meetings back to the people of your region.

Use of Federal public lands for hunting, fishing and trapping. For question No. 7, identify which Federal public lands you use, and provide as much detail as possible how you use these public lands; for example, describe what fish you catch and what methods you use.

Once you have completed the application, please submit it to the Office of Subsistence Management to the address indicated on page 2 of this pamphlet. If you choose to fax in your application, please also mail in the original application. Fax copies do not always come through clearly in the transmission.
