

The image shows three large fish, likely salmon, laid out on a wooden surface. The fish are arranged vertically, with their heads pointing towards the top. The fish on the left has a small red mark on its side. The fish in the middle is slightly smaller and has its mouth open. The fish on the right is the largest and is partially cut off by the edge of the frame. In the bottom left corner, there are several purple flowers with long stems. The background is a wooden surface with a visible grain. The text "Yakutat-Ahtna Cultural Exchange" is overlaid in the center in a white, sans-serif font, with a white horizontal line underneath it.
